INTERNATIONAL MARITIME MASS RESCUE CONFERENCE

Gothenburg, Sweden

1-3 June 2014

The third in the International Maritime Rescue Federation (IMRF)'s series of international conferences on maritime mass rescue operations

The conference will include:

- a mass rescue simulation exercise, and practical activities
- mass rescue case studies and a major exercise report
- an 'open space' opportunity to discuss mass rescue issues with representatives of the passenger shipping industry, search and rescue authorities, and emergency response organisations
- an opportunity to contribute to the IMO's and the IMRF's mass rescue operations guidance

If you are in the shipping or offshore industries, or emergency response organisations at sea or on land, you should attend this key event
